

Number one

We are happy to present to you "the first news letter" from Midi Amsterdam.

In these monthly letters, we would like to make sure you will be up to date with the latest news about products, projects, clinics, trainings and that you will be the first that can have profit of products that we can offer for special prices. We are planning a lot of other things that may be off interest for everybody that has something to do in the music biss, but first things first, lets provide you with some news right now.

Product News

Mark of the Unicorn

At the Frankfurt Music Messe MOTU announced two new products, the Mach Five MKII and the Symphonic Instrument.

The Mach Five MKII sampler, finally will have, real-time pitch shifting and time stretching, so now will compete with the rest of the VST-i samplers that are on the market.

Based on the Mach Five is the new plug-in, Symphonic Instrument.

A sample player with a complete orchestra on board, it comes with a 8Gb sample library of solo instruments but also complete ensembles.

Both VST-I's will e available on both platforms and in the various formats as we all know VST, DXi, AU, RTAS and MAS. Unfortunately there is no price info yet.
